

Steve LeClair
President, HD Supply

Steve LeClair, president of HD Supply Waterworks, is responsible for leading the nation's largest distributor of water, sewer, storm and fire protection products. Prior to his current role, he served as president of HD Supply Lumber and Building Materials from April 2007 until its divestiture to ProBuild Holdings in 2008. LeClair joined HD Supply in 2005 as senior director of Operations. Before joining HD Supply, LeClair was a senior vice president at General Electric (GE) Equipment Services. He also held various roles at GE Appliances and Power Generation in distribution, manufacturing and sales. LeClair is a graduate of GE Power Generation's Manufacturing Management Program.

LeClair is a member of the Saint Louis University's International Business School Advisory Board. He holds a bachelor's degree in Mechanical Engineering from Union College and an M.B.A. from the University of Louisville.

HD Supply (NASDAQ: HDS) (www.hdsupply.com) is one of the largest industrial distributors in North America. The company provides a broad range of products and value-add services to approximately 500,000 customers with leadership positions in maintenance, repair and operations, water infrastructure and residential and non-residential construction sectors. With approximately 500 locations across 48 states and six Canadian provinces, our 14,000 associates provide localized, customer-driven services including jobsite delivery, will call or direct-ship options, diversified logistics and innovative solutions that contribute to our customers' success.

**###