FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

HD Supply Waterworks Launches New Website

ST. LOUIS, Mo. – October 1, 2013 – HD Supply Waterworks today unveiled its redesigned website at hdswaterworks.com. The new site is mobile enabled and has a comprehensive overview of the company's product offering, including Fusible Piping Systems, AMI/AMR Meter Solutions, Pump Equipment, Storm Drain Solutions, Treatment Plant Solutions, infraMAP® software, and a variety of specialty tools for contractor and municipal customers. Visitors of hdswaterworks.com can also access two company specialty sites – hdsfusible.com and hdsfireprotection.com.

"The mobile-enabled website is a part of our broader strategic plan to deliver enhancements that meet customer demands and make us easily accessible," said HD Supply Waterworks President Steve LeClair. "We will continue to invest in technology that creates a positive user experience and secures our position as the first choice of our customers."

The website provides customers with convenient access 24 hours a day to HD Supply Waterworks' on-demand reporting, online materials management, digital invoices, and other value-add online services, as well as an interactive map that lists the company's more than 240 nationwide branches.
